International Workshop on Healthcare Operations Management

Haifa, Israel

June 27, 2010

~

The MSOM Society and its Special Interest Group (SIG) in Healthcare Operations Management invite researchers, clinicians, and healthcare executives to attend and participate in an international workshop focused on cutting-edge issues at the interface (broadly defined) between healthcare and operations management. The workshop will be held at the Technion, the Israel Institute of Technology, in Haifa, Israel on Sunday, June 27, 2010. The workshop will be followed by the two-day MSOM conference.

The number of healthcare papers presented at INFORMS conferences has increased dramatically over the last five years. Many of these presentations involve concepts and/or tools from the field of operations management. This will be the first INFORMS-related conference devoted to this important interface. We expect to attract faculty, clinicians, and healthcare executives from a wide variety of academic departments, as well as from a large number of countries.

We encourage interested colleagues to submit ideas, suggestions, and three-page (non-technical) extended abstracts to lkendrick@rhsmith.umd.edu between now and the submission deadline.

We look forward to welcoming you in Israel in June.

Bruce Golden, Smith School of Business, University of Maryland, Workshop Co-Chair

Matthew Liberatore, School of Business, Villanova University, Workshop Co-Chair

Avi Seidmann, Simon School of Business, University of Rochester, SIG President

Yale T. Herer, The Technion, MSOM Conference Chair
